PAINTINGS AND SCULPTURE
BY A GROUP OF
AMERICAN ARTISTS

FROM AN EXHIBITION

NOVEMBER 15 TO 29, 1919

AT THE MACBETH GALLERY

THE MACBETH GALLERY
450 Fifth Avenue, New York
At Fortieth Street

FOREWORD

The present exhibition introduces a group of artists organized a year ago with the object of properly presenting in public such of their works of painting and sculpture as they consider representative. The group is elective; its membership, not yet complete, is limited to twenty painters and five sculptors. It is not a formally organized society and has no officers, the affairs of the group being conducted by a council of four members. Pictures are to be selected for the exhibitions by the artists themselves, without recourse to the jury system. The group has been formed in no spirit of opposition to any other art body; and, as a body, represents no one art movement. Its members are united simply by mutual esteem and by the sincerity of their art work. This is the first of a series of annual exhibitions already provided for.—W. S.
