ANTON MAUVE.

In January, 1894, an exhibition of the work of this artist was given in my gallery. It included twenty oil sketches and a number of charcoal drawings, which excited much interest as showing phases of Mauve's art, with which his many admirers here had not been familiar.

They were a portion of a collection which his widow had till then kept with jealous care, and the few secured at that time she most grudgingly parted with. Mrs. Mauve had been ill for a long time, and on March 18th she died. Steps were then taken to secure the remainder of the collection from the executor of her estate, and the present exhibition is the result. It includes several finished pictures and a wide variety of subjects. To those who have thought of Mauve as a painter of sheep and cattle only, this exhibition will prove a surprise, with its Landscapes, Interiors, Coast Scenes and, even, a Marine. But in all will be seen the same sincere and sympathetic mind working out in the simplest way the various problems that forced themselves on his attention.

A study of Mauve's methods, from sketch to finished picture, cannot fail to be highly interesting and instructive, and to all who care to avail themselves of this opportunity a cordial invitation is extended to visit the exhibition.

Mauve died in February, 1888, and since then his pictures have been so eagerly looked for by collectors that they are becoming more and more difficult to procure. There can be no more at the moderate prices for which the examples in this collection are offered.
